

Beckhoff at Light + Building 2012

Energy efficiency was at the focal point of the Light+Building 2012, which took place from 15 to 20 April in Frankfurt am Main, Germany. 2,352 exhibitors from 50 countries presented new products for house and building automation, lighting and electrical engineering as well as software for the building industry. 44 percent of the 196,000 visitors came from foreign countries.

Beckhoff presented PC- and Ethernet-based control technology for building automation as well as numerous new products together with several solution partners on an area of 240 m².

Impressions:
www.beckhoff.com/light-building

